Hot air in short supply at Upton meeting

The outside temperature was below zero last Thursday night when two dozen Upton residents gathered for the annual Town Meeting at the School House building. Inside, the stove had been going for several hours, but because the building is only heated for meetings, and a draft pours in from around the uninsulated vent, the temperature was still chilly. Most voters kept their hats and jackets on throughout the one-and-one-quarter-hour gathering. Here, Donald Scott warms himself next to the stove as the meeting concludes.

Telstar guidance counselor moonlights to music

By ALISON ALOISIO

Just out of college in the early 1990s, Kevin O'Reilly of Bethel was trying to make a living as a professional musician.

He played bass guitar with a band called "Love Cactus," and they had a performance scheduled in Boston.

Driving south, he said, "My car broke down. I had to have my mother call me in sick to work the next day since we didn't have time to fix the car."

"[At the performance] there were about 10 people in the audience. Then, on the way back, the engine in the car seized up. At that point I said, 'I need a real life, a real job.'"

So O'Reilly the guitarist became O'Reilly the guidance counselor. Today, he has a real job at Telstar High School.

But that doesn't mean he abandoned his music. Far from it.

Anyone who watches WCHS-TV's "207" has likely seen one of the five recent ap-

Town Meetings

Upton will not pave East B Hill Rd.

By ALISON ALOISIO

At last week's annual Town Meeting, Upton voters rejected a plan to pave a stretch of the East B Hill Road.

Residents also chose a new selectman in a three-way race.

Rod Goodrum garnered 17 votes in a race against Bob Folsom, who received five, and Nancy Thew, who got four.

All were nominated from the floor. Goodrum, elected to a three-year term, will succeed Roger Lavalley, who served a one-year term and declined to run again.

Re-elected to other offices unopposed were John Aron as School Committee member and Jim Rector as town clerk, tax collector and treasurer.

No paving

By a 13-11 vote, residents defeated a proposal to spend $20,000 to pave the 300-foot stretch of the East B Hill Road.

The road washed out in spring storms in 2005 and 2006. The town repaired and made improvements to it, and the road was ready for paving.

One resident commented that the price seemed high. Selectman Paul Casey said the board had obtained per-foot estimates from contractors, and came up with the overall estimate.

But the plan was narrowly defeated, and Casey said the town will simply continue to grade that section of road.

The other money articles on the 30-article warrant were approved.

One that prompted a relatively lengthy discussion requested $12,000 for the purchase of a new plow wing for the town's plow truck, which was purchased last year.

The wing would allow the truck to plow roads wider during a storm, town officials said. Two passes with the plow and

Andover faces solid waste decisions

By ALISON ALOISIO

At Saturday's annual Town Meeting, Andover residents will choose what they think are the most cost-effective ways to dispose of their trash and to manage the town's Surplus Account.

Eight of the 70 articles on the warrant deal with rubbish disposal.

The town has held two public hearings on the issue, and Laura Hutchins, chair of the Board of Selectmen, said she hopes residents have the facts they need to make decisions.

Selectmen are recommending that Andover join Northern Oxford Regional Solid Waste of Mexico on a one-year trial basis, at a cost of $55,656.

The move would save the town money and provide for a more efficient removal of recyclables, Hutchins said.

If the proposal is approved, Archies, Inc., which currently hauls away much of the town's trash to Norridgewock and recyclables to Portland, would take them instead to Mexico, Hutchins said.

Under the new plan, residents would have to transport white goods and construction debris directly to Mexico.

In addition, said Hutchins, townspeople would be able to take their old TVs and computer monitors to Mexico for recycling.

There is currently no provision in Andover for disposing of them, she said.

Hutchins said disposal of TVs and monitors is a continuing problem, because it is difficult to find a place to take them at a reasonable price.

She said residents have

664-acre Mason parcel on track for WMNF acquisition

By MICHAEL DANIELS

A 664-acre parcel of land in Mason Township has a unique place in President Bush's proposed federal budget for FY 2008.

The parcel is the only land east of Montana proposed for acquisition by the federal Land and Water Conservation Fund.

Known as the Haystack Notch Trailhead, the parcel is surrounded on three sides by the White Mountain National Forest (Map, Page 2).

If acquired by the LWCF, the parcel would become part of the National Forest.

The parcel has been heavily logged but is nonetheless popular with a variety of outdoor recreationalists.

Two hiking trails that provide access to the nearby Cariboo-Speckled Mountain Wilderness begin on the parcel, and the headwaters of the West Branch and Pleasant River are there.

Mason Township residents and others have lobbied hard to have the parcel purchased by the federal government and incorporated into National Forest.

A petition circulated last year supporting federal acquisition of the parcel included a signature from all but one of the township's 26 households.

At that time the parcel was privately owned and for sale.

The owner, Lloyd Poland, said at the time that he preferred to sell the parcel to the National Forest.

In December the parcel was purchased by the Land and Water Conservation Fund, a private conservation organization that buys lands that are threatened by development and holds them until they can be purchased by the federal government.

The trust paid $550,000 for the parcel, according to Rod-

Dumont flying high

By ALISON ALOISIO

It was a lucrative weekend for Simon Dumont.

The Bethel skier picked up $40,000 in prize money by winning back-to-back halfpipe competitions at Squaw Valley, Calif., and Park City, Utah.

Among top competitors in the sport, Dumont, 20, is known for regularly achieving the highest amplitude (height) over the halfpipe.

He used that talent again Saturday in winning his third Honda Ski Tour Halfpipe title of the season, and the $25,000 prize.

The win, at Squaw Valley, gave him a total of $80,000 in earnings from the Honda tour and the overall title of tour Halfpipe Champion.

There were four competitions on the tour, which is new this year.

Dumont soared above the 20-foot tower marker next to the course, according to a Squaw Valley press release. The tower is used to gauge a competitor's amplitude.

"Today was the first time I've ever been scared skiing into a halfpipe wall," Dumont said.

"I got my skis waxed in the morning and they put this powder stuff on them right before my run, and I went so fast into the wall and popped as hard as I could."

On his second run, Dumont scored the highest run score of the day, with a 93.5.

The competition will be broadcast on the ABC television network March 25, beginning at 2 p.m.

On Sunday, Dumont traveled to Park City, Utah, to compete in the World Superpipe Championships.

He came out on top again, besting rival Tanner Hall to win the $15,000 first prize.

Dumont is also a two-time winner of the Superpipe competition in the Winter X Games.

A 2004 graduate of Telstar High School, he is the son of Francis and Barbara Dumont.

Time to reboot?

Announcements over the past three weeks that Les Otten has stepped down from the Board of Directors of the American Skiing Company, and that the company was "reviewing strategic options" for its two remaining eastern properties, Sunday River and Sugarloaf/USA, have added fuel to long-smoldering rumors that Otten plans to buy back — or attempt to buy back — Sunday River, and perhaps Sugarloaf.

Otten first purchased Sunday River more than a quarter-century ago, paying $840,000 for the struggling resort in 1980. In 1996 American Skiing, the holding company Otten formed after building Sunday River to national prominence, acquired Sugarloaf, as well as a number of other eastern resorts.

ASC eventually owned as many as nine eastern and western resorts, but a high debt load ultimately forced the company to begin selling off assets. Now only the Canyons, in Utah, and the two Maine resorts remain.

Otten's resignation from the ASC board was widely interpreted as a preliminary step to his launching a bid for one or both of those two properties.

Neither Otten nor any other potential principal has commented publicly on the possibility of such a deal, but there has certainly been plenty of discussion on the street.

Over the past two weeks many local residents and regular visitors have shared their thoughts on the matter with us, and we can report — we're sure to no one's surprise — that local feelings run strongly in favor of Otten retaking the helm at Sunday River.

Charlene O'Brien of Newry was typical. "I'd be very happy to see Les come back to Sunday River," she said. "He was here when we started in '84, and he always did an awesome job. When he said he was going to do something for you he did it. He really cared about Sunday River, but now I feel we're like an unwanted stepchild. I would like to see him back."

So would John Cooley of Bethel, and he echoed a second feeling we encountered often in our conversations — dissatisfaction with the current owners, especially with what some perceive as their lack of concern for the Sunday River product and with local community.

"I can only hope that Les has the opportunity to purchase back Sunday River. It would be nice to have someone that actually cares about the surrounding area in charge again," Cooley wrote in an e-mail. "A fresh look, especially from someone with Les' vision, would be a welcome and anticipated change. Hopefully the current individuals in charge don't wait too long to sell. A reputation is a hard thing to rebuild, and Les has his work cut out for him if he's trying to fix what they've done to Sunday River's."

That might be a bit harsh. In fairness to ASC, they can hardly be held accountable for snow that hasn't fallen over the past two years, or for air seeping from the real estate bubble. But it is clear the company's primary interests are elsewhere.

And it is undeniable that since 2000, when Otten stepped down from day-to-day management at ASC, fewer skiers have opted to spend their time and money at Sunday River, or elsewhere in the Bethel area.

Overall business at the resort is down well over 10 percent since 2000, and last season, for the first time in 14 years, Sunday River logged fewer than a half million skier/boarder visits.

One skier who hasn't been lured away is Otten himself. Despite his numerous other interests — and the call of higher peaks, deeper powder and way more glitz out west — he has maintained his home here.

That, we believe, says a lot more about real commitment than any corporate press release ever will.

The novelist F. Scott Fitzgerald famously (many say fatuously) wrote: "There are no second acts in American lives." There have, of course, been countless.

To think of another business where high product quality and imaginative marketing are essential ingredients of success, consider computers, and Apple's Steve Jobs.

Can Otten return and do for Sunday River what Jobs, when he returned from his years in the wilderness, did for the company he co-founded?

A lot of folks here certainly hope so, and who among us would be at all surprised to see Les Otten reach up the sleeve of his parka and pull out the next iPod?

WILL THE VA WAKE UP IN TIME?

To the Editor:

A couple of months ago my husband, Ted, and I were told by a long-time friend that he had been diagnosed with prostate cancer and that, unfortunately, he had to have it removed right away because of its advance stage.

We visited with him and his wife this weekend and imagine our horror to find that the veteran's administration won't pay for it. We asked who his primary doctor at the VA was and he said it was hard to say as every time he goes he sees a different one. It appears that no one knows what's going on and no one will make any decisions since no one knows anything. The only thing they'll say is "No." He has a doctor in Lewiston who is trying hard to get help for him. Our friend has sent a letter to Olympia Snowe but hasn't heard from her yet. I feel confident that he will, as she's always gotten back to me when I've written her. He's in the process of trying other options. The question remains — will it be in time?

This man did not balk when the U.S. government wanted him to spend two years in Vietnam. He went and served his nation. And now we're all finding out, especially our veterans that, "It's not what your government can do for you but rather what your government can do you for." This nation has much to be ashamed of but treating our vets in the manner we're all learning about has got to take the cake. The VA needs a good house cleaning with a stiff broom and strong disinfectant. It's spring and time to start fresh!

W.E.S. SKIING THANKS

To the Editor:

The Woodstock Elementary School is very fortunate to have strong support from the SAD44 community. Local businesses, the Woodstock and Greenwood town managers, as well as members from the Board of Selectmen and School Board have helped us out with special events at our school.

It is important for our students to get to know the people who are responsible for taking care of the needs of their towns. We truly appreciate the time they have taken to help.

At this time of year, we are also given the opportunity to learn to ski and snowboard, and to practice skills at the Sunday River Ski Resort and the Bethel Inn Cross Country Center. Sunday River Ski Resort allows our students, through the Rug Rat Program, to ski and ride five times during January and February. They provide us with instructors, ski equipment and lift tickets at no cost. This program is organized by Denise Manning from Gould Academy and coordinated by Helen Davies at the mountain. Our third, fourth and fifth graders love it.

The Bethel Inn Cross Country Ski Center allows our kindergarten through fifth-grade skiers to go up to the inn and use their trails at no cost. This is a great chance to get on "real" trails because our school does not have groomed trails. We appreciate Mike Cooper's efforts to work this out with us. Our parent volunteers and coaches are excited to have this opportunity for the children.

On behalf of the Woodstock School staff, students and families, I want to extend our thanks for all the time, efforts and financial support. We are very grateful for the continued community support given to us.

Parcel

ger Krussman Senior Project Manager.

That is the amount of money allocated for the parcel in the president's budget proposal.

Before the parcel can be purchased by the government, the allocation must be approved and funded by Congress.

Krussman said that if the funding falls into place, and all goes smoothly, his organization would expect to sell the land to the LWCF by the end of this year or early 2008.

Richard Grover of Mason said he was surprised to learn the parcel was the only eastern land to be included in the president's budget.

"As an outdoorsman I'm pleased that it looks like the government is going to make the land part of the National Forest," he said. "Once the woodland recovers, it will again be prime forest habitat."

Description

The Trust for Public Lands describes the parcel and its relationship to the National Forest as follows:

"A small portion of the WMNF is located in Maine and includes the Caribou-Speckled Mountain Wilderness Area, designated by Congress in 1990 and covering 12,000 acres of public land on the WMNF. It is the largest and one of only two Wilderness areas in Maine, located south of Route 2 near the small town of Gilead.

"Immediately adjacent to the Caribou-Speckled Mountain Wilderness Area and surrounded on three sides by US Forest Service ownership is a 664-acre property available for acquisition in FY 2008 that will provide significant public access into the wilderness area."

"The property is located in Mason Township in western Maine, where recently a large amount of timber company lands are being disposed of and turned over to development and subdivision."

"The local public desires that opportunities continue for traditional uses such as hiking, sightseeing, fishing, hunting, trapping and snowmobiling. In particular, the Miles Notch and Haystack Notch trailheads are located on this property and link to other trails, including the Red Rock and Great Brook trails, which also pass through the Caribou-Speckled Wilderness."

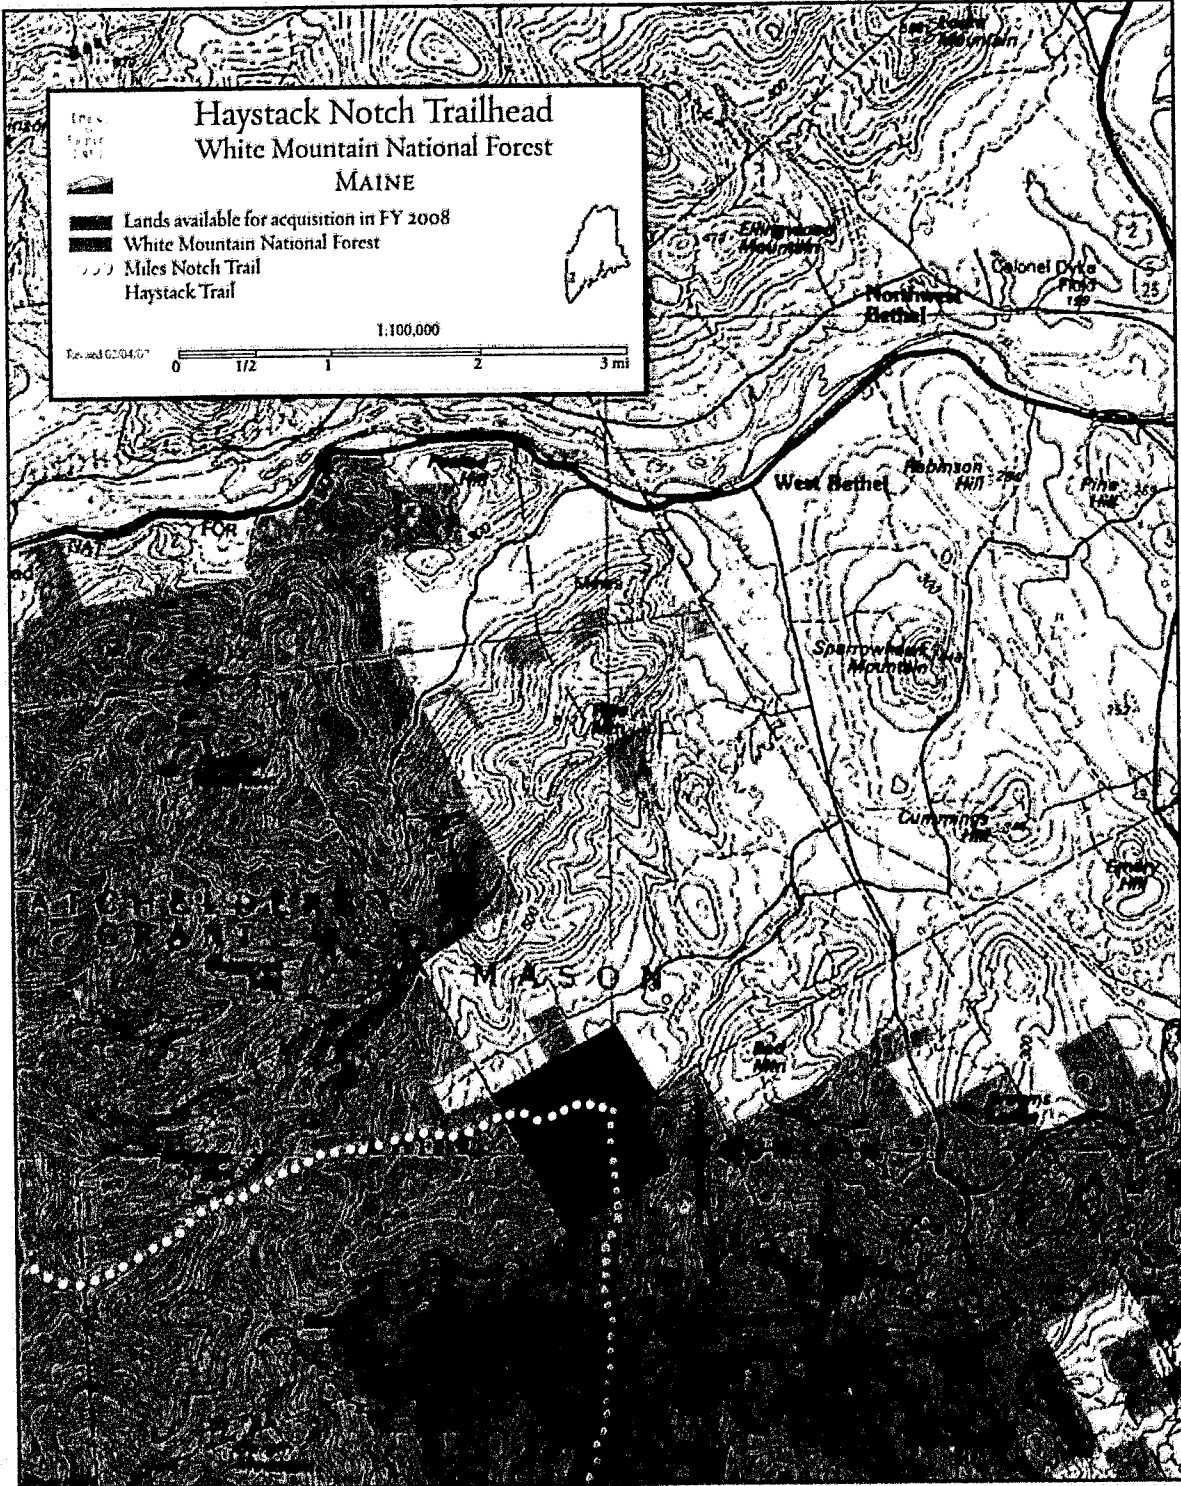

"From a recreational perspective, this acquisition would solidify access to these trails, trailheads, and this part of the wilderness and these opportunities could be lost if the tract is sold to another private entity and the property is subdivided."

"This property provides important wildlife values and has natural wetlands and two key perennial streams, the West Branch of the Pleasant River and Miles Brook, which are tributaries of the Androscoggin River, along with several intermittent streams."

"The WMNF recently evaluated the West Branch of the Pleasant River and found it to be eligible for Wild and Scenic designation. Lower reaches of the West Branch are believed to have important habitat for the wood turtle, a Regional Forester's Sensitive Species. The river also offers significant fishing opportunities, as it contains runs of wild rainbow trout and brook trout. Purchase of the property will provide additional protection for the watershed and the fisheries and aquatic species dependent on high-water quality."

"The White Mountain National Forest is one of the most intensively used national forests in the country and is within a day's drive of over 70 million people. If this land is not acquired and protected by the US Forest Service, it is likely that it will be developed and subdivided soon. Thus, the recreation, watershed, wildlife and fisheries, and vegetation management values would be foregone."

Board reaffirms Whitecap plan

AUGUSTA—The Land for Maine's Future Board Tuesday reaffirmed its commitment to contribute $243,000 toward the purchase of a 761-acre land parcel on Rumford Whitecap Mountain, according to Steve Wight, president of the Mahoosuc Land Trust. The Trust is leading the effort to buy the land, at a cost of $700,000. At the regular meeting of the LMF board, members heard the concerns of the Kersey family, who own acreage at the summit of Whitecap. Family members said recently they are concerned about the possible impact of the land sale on their property. They also said publicity put out by MLT for fundraising purposes has been misleading, in that it implied the parcel to be purchased included Kersey property. LMF officials had said earlier that they realized the MLT parcel did not include all of Whitecap's summit.

Trek needs volunteers

AUGUSTA—The American Lung Association of Maine is looking for volunteers to help with the Trek Across Maine cycling event. On June 15-17th, more than 2,000 cyclists are expected to ride and help raise over a million dollars. Funds raised support lung health for all people in Maine. "Volunteers are the backbone of this event," said Michelle Caliendo, Trek Volunteer Coordinator. "Volunteers can help with planning starting months before the ride, setting up various locations throughout the weekend, registering cyclists, monitoring the route, managing snack stations, cleaning up or cheering on the cyclists. There is a place for everyone's time and talents." Volunteers have a variety of motivations for involvement. Some are involved because a family member or friend has asthma or lung disease. Some are involved because they are looking to make a contribution to their community. "It is rewarding to see the event come together," said Caliendo. It is a great event with something for everyone. ### Regional town meeting planned

BETHEL - The sponsors of the Brookings Report are inviting local residents to attend a "Regional Town Meeting" March 20 at the Bethel Inn Conference Center, and to join a growing grassroots discussion about how to build sustainable prosperity in Maine. GrowSmart Maine is organizing similar meetings in every state Senate district in Maine during the next few months to spread the word and to build support for major changes in Augusta. The public is invited to attend the 6:30 p.m. meeting and to offer their ideas on how to move Maine. At the town meeting, GrowSmart Maine President Alan Caron will review the recommendations of the Brookings report, which his organization funded, and will moderate the meeting. "All the great landmark changes in Maine have started with the people, in one way or another, at the local level," said Caron. "Real change doesn't start in Augusta or Washington. It comes from the ground up. Maine is poised for prosperity, if we are willing and able to change and find new ways to work together. It won't happen unless people work through our differences, get organized and demand change." While Caron plans to discuss and answer questions about the Brookings Report, the session is intended to be a participatory event. Participants are urged to and get involved in organizing support in their community. Some 4,000 Mainers have joined the GrowSmart Maine network, according to officials. "People will learn about the Brookings Report, the potential for change and how Augusta is responding," explained Noah Keteyian, field director for GrowSmart Maine. "This is an opportunity to learn firsthand how it affects your community." The report recommends that state government and K-12 administration be streamlined to free up resources to invest in what matters, including the new innovation economy, community revitalization and preserving the outdoors and access to hunting, fishing and boating opportunities. Additional savings would go to tax reductions. The plan is also intended create incentives to help communities work together toward regional cooperation, and resources for Maine towns to plan and prepare for the future. ### A successful Maine hunting season

AUGUSTA—Despite a rainy and windy opening day to the deer season, hunters fared a little better than expected last year during the deer season, with 29,918 deer killed. The number is slightly above the 29,400 pre-season prediction, and also above the 20 year average of 28,700. "While the season may have started a little wet, I am pleased to see that so many hunters persisted and were rewarded with success this past season," stated Martin. "I am also thrilled to see that so many young hunters were successful on youth day. Passing along a tradition such as deer hunting is a wonderful way to teach a young hunter values such as conservation, responsibility and ethics." Maine's deer season stretches from September through December, and is broken into several segments that includes the Regular Firearms Season, the October Archery Season, the Expanded Archery Season, the muzzleloading season and youth deer hunting day. The total deer kill for each of the past ten deer seasons is as follows: 2006 - 29,918; 2005 - 28,148; 2004 - 30,926; 2003 - 30,313; 2002 - 38,153; 2001 - 27,769; 2000 - 36,885; 1999 - 31,473; 1998 - 28,241; 1997 - 31,152; 1996 - 28,375; 1995 - 27,384. Youth hunters had their best day ever, as 1,216 young hunters were successful that day, nearly twice the total of last year's 672 successful hunters. Bowhunters and muzzleloaders also found more success this year compared to last. 2,494 deer were taken during the expanded and October archery seasons. Muzzleloaders took 1,307 deer, up from the 994 last year. More deer were killed in Penobscot county (3,509) than in any other county this past year. Other counties where more than 2,000 deer were killed include Somerset (3,472), Kennebec (2,920), Cumberland (2,677), York (2,580), and Oxford (2,240). Hunters this year killed 16,081 adult bucks, and 13,798 antlerless deer. The antlerless kill of 13,798 was very close to the predicted antlerless kill of 13,510.

Home repair loans available

AUGUSTA—Funding for home repair is now available to Maine homeowners, USDA Rural Development State Director Michael W. Aube has announced. The 504 Repair and Rehabilitation Loan is available in the form of a 1 percent loan of up to $20,000 with a maximum payback of 20 years. Eligible homeowners utilizing the loan could borrow $20,000 for repairs and pay back their loan for the amount of only $92 per month (1 percent) for 20 years. Typical uses of these funds may include removal of health and safety issues, such as repairing or replacing a roof, installing screens or new windows, replacing a failing septic system, providing for a sanitary water supply, or other items to improve the home's safety. Qualified applicants must live in a rural area, own their own homes, have an acceptable credit history, not be able to obtain credit through conventional sources or assets, be a U.S. citizen or qualified alien, and show acceptable repayment ability. The applicant must also have an adjusted family income that does not exceed the very low-income limit for the area in which the home is located. Interested people should contact a representative to discuss eligibility requirements at the phone number given at the end of this release. For more information on this program or other Rural Development programs, please see the website at <http://www.rurdev.usda.gov/me/> or call the Lewiston Area Office at (207) 753-9400.

LEGAL NOTICE

Crossroads Wireless Holding, LLC

We are a prospective applicant under the Rural Broadband Access Loan and Loan Guarantee Program being administered by the Rural Development, Utilities Programs (Rural Development), United States Department of Agriculture. We are required, as a prospective applicant, to announce our intent to provide broadband services (200 kilobits upstream and downstream) to communities in the State of Maine in Oxford and Franklin Counties, including the communities of:

Hanover, Milton, Stoneham, Woodstock, and Weld

Incumbent broadband service providers have 30 days from the date of this Legal Notice to inform Rural Development if they are currently providing broadband service in these areas or if they have a commitment to provide service in these areas. Incumbent broadband service providers should submit to Rural Development, on a form prescribed by Rural Development, the number of residential customers receiving broadband service in the proposed service area, the rates of data transmission, and the cost of each level of service or proof of commitment to provide service in the proposed service area. A map should also be provided showing the boundaries of your service area in relation to the communities above.

A Legal Notice Response Form can be obtained from Rural Development's website at www.usda.gov/rus/telecom.

Refuge Evaluates Environmental Impacts of Hunt Programs, Invites Public Comment

In response to a national lawsuit, the Lake Umbagog National Wildlife Refuge has evaluated the long-term and cumulative environmental impacts resulting from its current hunting program. The public may comment on the draft revised environmental assessment (EA) for 30 days from March 15th April 13th, 2007. The revised EA will be available from the refuge website www.fws.gov/northeast/lakeumbagog/hunting\_regulations.htm or by contacting Deputy Refuge Manager Ian Drew by phone: (603) 482-3415 x 15 or e-mail: ian\_drew@fws.gov. The refuge staff will also be available to answer questions at the refuge office from 5-8pm on April 5th.

The Fund for Animals, a national animal rights organization, sued the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in 2003 alleging that the agency did not fully meet the requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) when it opened national wildlife refuges to hunting between 1997 and 2003. The lawsuit affects migratory bird, upland game and big game hunt programs at 74 national wildlife refuges throughout the U.S. U.S. Circuit Court Judge Ricardo M. Urbina ruled in favor of the plaintiffs in August. The court did not stop national wildlife refuge hunt programs and the Service is working to fulfill NEPA requirements for the hunts at issue by May 31, 2007. During this time we are also addressing any similar deficiencies regarding the opening of hunts for 30 refuges opened to hunting since the lawsuit was filed and for seven 2006-2007 proposed refuge openings.

The draft revised environmental assessment for the hunt program at Lake Umbagog National Wildlife Refuge includes the Service's analyses of the overall impacts of the hunts on resident wildlife, migratory species, threatened and endangered species, refuge facilities and visitor services, cultural resources, ecosystems, and neighboring lands. The Service also considered the cumulative impacts of past, present, and future hunts on wildlife species, refuge resources, and other wildlife-dependent refuge activities. Where appropriate, we assessed the cumulative environmental impacts at the local, regional, and migratory flyway levels.

The refuge has also been working on a Comprehensive Conservation Plan (CCP) that will guide all of its management activities for a period of 15 years. This CCP is currently in its draft state and is in review in Washington D.C. Upon completion of that review, the refuge will announce the time period for public comment on the draft CCP later in the year.

pearances by O'Reilly and his current band, The Dave Rowe Trio.

Tuba to bass
O'Reilly, who grew up in Cape Elizabeth, got his start in music as a young teen. "I dabbled in the tuba," he said, but tried the guitar after his parents worried he was too small to handle the larger instrument.

"He soon moved on to bass guitar. I got the bug and never stopped," he said. "The bass was what I connected with."

He played with various bands throughout high school and college. The music was also varied; punk rock, heavy metal, classic rock and roll and others.

"If it was there to be done, I wanted to try it," he said.

O'Reilly attended St. Joseph's, USM and eventually graduated from the University of Maine at Farmington with a social studies degree.

While he was in graduate school at Telstar High School, plays bass guitar with the Dave Rowe Trio. The helps him connect Maine, studying for band will celebrate its third anniversary Saturday, St. Patrick's Day, by playing at the Irish American Heritage Center in Portland.

The recording was a compilation of the university's annual Bumstock Festival, in which he had participated.

From 1995 to 2005, O'Reilly served as a guidance counselor at Dirigo High School in Dixfield.

There he met his wife, Nancy Eaton, who now teaches physics at Gould Academy.

While he worked in education, O'Reilly continued to play bass guitar part-time.

At Dirigo, he found occasional opportunities to use his talents as a musician.

"I helped out with a music theory class, playing for the kids here and there. And I played with the pep band," he said.

The pep band was one of 40 in which he has now played.

The Dave Rowe Trio got its start three years ago during Hoot Night at the Sudbury Inn in Bethel, where he met Dave Rowe.

"He said he was putting a band together and needed a bass guitarist," said O'Reilly.

Rowe's father, Tom, had recently passed away. The elder Rowe was the co-founder of the well-known Maine folk band Schooner Fare.

will feature a live performance recorded last fall at the Chocolate Church in Bath. It includes "Finnegan's Wake" and the sea shanty "The Mermaid Song," O'Reilly said.

He said he enjoys the camaraderie of the trio and the opportunity to travel with the group.

And musically, "I like the music, particularly the up tempo numbers which drive like rock and roll songs," he said.

"The other thing I like is that I'm learning to be a better singer, which was never a strength of mine."

To Telstar
In 2005 O'Reilly became a guidance counselor at Telstar.

He and the trio have played for SAD44 students as part of the Mahosuc Arts Council's performance program.

At Telstar, said O'Reilly, "They cheered. I got more compliments than I expected."

He said that in some cases, music is the only way to connect with students, he advises.

And, he said, "My musical background and recent experiences with the Trio have given me some good insights to pass along to students interested in music for a career."

Although he admits his ideal career would still be full-time musician, O'Reilly said the balance of musician and counselor is a good one.

"I feel being a musician (or doing any sort of public performance) is an inherent selfish thing, particularly when it comes to getting your music out to people."

"As a counselor, I can offset some of that selfishness by trying to help students accomplish all sorts of goals, like choosing a career, helping them deal with a difficult circumstance, or guiding them through the college application process."

wing would clear a wider path than three passes with just the plow, they said.

Some residents suggested it would be better to simply hire a contractor for the task, and they worried the wing could be easily damaged by catching rocks or other objects.

Others objected to the cost. Casey said the funds approved for last year's truck purchase were not enough to include buying the wing, which cost $10,000 then. He requested the larger amount this year in case the price to buy it separately is greater, he said. The voters eventually approved the purchase by a clear show of hands.

Legal fees up
Residents also gave their approval for $4,000 to cover legal fees this year. Rector said the usual allocation is $1,000.

Higher costs are anticipated in connection with a case currently before the Board of Appeals, Rector said after the meeting.

The case involves a building permit that was approved by the Planning Board, rescinded by the Board of Appeals, and is now before the Appeals Board again on another appeal, Rector said.

The property involved in the case is located on Lake Umbagog, he said.

Because the paving proposal was defeated, voters also defeated an article authorizing the town to exceed the LD1 limit on an increase in funds raised from taxes.

Without the paving cost, the amount raised from taxes will remain very close to what it was last year, Rector said.

Andover

dumped them at the Town Office and at the Transfer Station gate.

"I understand their frustration," she said. "We're frustrated that we can't get rid of these things."

If the plan to join NORSW is approved, Andover would try to keep its transfer station open to collect some recyclables and to compact household trash before sending it off to Mexico, she said.

That cost is estimated at $13,600.

Costs to keep status quo
Should voters reject the NORSW proposal, they will consider several other articles addressing the current transfer station system.

One would be $75,000 for the continued operation of the transfer station.

Other articles propose $8,525 to build a new shed and two concrete pads at the station, and $2,500 for a new motor and valves for the compactor. Also proposed: selling by bid the generator at the station.

Voters would also decide whether to charge a fee for the disposal of tires and white goods at the station, at a rate of $15 per white good, $5 per tire and $5 per TV/computer monitor.

The new shed would be used to store the TVs and monitors until enough accumulate to justify a contractor picking them up, the selectmen said.

Also on the warrant is an article to spend $30,900 for curbside waste collection, but Hutchins said selectmen don't believe it is a feasible option. "There are so many side roads," she said. Residents in such areas would have to bring their trash to an area dumpster, which would not be much of an advantage over taking it to the transfer station, she said.

Surplus Account
Voters will also decide whether to rescind an article approved at last year's Town Meeting.

The 2006 vote directed that annually the town take any money over $80,000 from the Surplus Account to go for tax reduction.

The article was proposed by Wayne Delano, a proponent of keeping the surplus account at a minimum.

Hutchins said selectmen and town auditor feel $80,000 in the account is cutting it too close.

"Any good business should have enough to go three months of payments in everything," she said.

In June, she said, Andover did not have enough funds to make its SAD44 school payment, and had to borrow $50,000, which carried a $400 interest payment.

Selectmen are recommending $150,000 be maintained in the account, enough to cover three months of expenses.

Delano has argued in the past that borrowing through tax anticipation notes for a short time is preferable to high taxes to keep large amounts of money in surplus.

Several town accounts ended the year with overdrafts, selectmen said, caused mainly by rising costs and the need to replace equipment that would not work.

Bucketloader, raises
Voters will also decide whether to purchase a new bucketloader for $80,000 to replace the town's current 1988 one, Hutchins said.

"We've had nothing but trouble with it," she said. Parts for the loader are difficult to obtain, she said.

Other articles propose 3 percent raises for town officers and employees, with the exception of the road commissioner. Hutchins said that job's responsibilities prompted selectmen to recommend a larger raise.

An article for the Recreation Account proposes raising $5,946 this year, up over the 2006 amount of $4,043.

Hutchins said sports teams are requesting new uniforms this year, accounting for most of the increase.

Budget totals
If all the money articles are approved (including the NORSW plan), the municipal budget would total $580,469, up from last year's $501,278, according to treasurer Sandy Conrad.

Under the current transfer station system, the budget this year would be $594,738, she said.

In town elections to be held on Tuesday, selectman Hope Peterson and SAD44 director Keith Farrington are running for re-election unopposed, Hutchins said.

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department

Have you ever noticed that "used" is a word that is seldom used any more? At least not the way it used to be used.

I'm sure you have noticed that used car lots have been replaced by pre-owned motor vehicles sales lots. There is no difference between a used car and a pre-owned vehicle, but someone must have thought "pre-owned" sounded a lot classier than used.

Something about the word "used" gives the impression that the car is old or has had a hard life. Pre-owned attaches a connotation that there is some kind of advantage in buying a car that has been driven all over God's creation. It's as if the dealers want to make you believe that a pre-owned vehicle has been broken in just for you.

The fact is, a pre-owned vehicle is a used car that has been used by somebody, maybe even several somebody, and they don't want to use it anymore.

A used car isn't like something new that has been improved by doing something "pre" to it. Take pre-washed jeans for example. They have been made better by washing the stiffness out and reducing the shrinkage. Pre-cooked foods are a nice convenience and save us a lot of time when we are in a hurry.

No one in their right mind would think even for a minute that they are buying used jeans or used food. So do the used car folks think that by applying the same marketing principle, the buyer will feel they are getting a product that has been improved?

Previously-owned car salespeople are not the only ones using this marketing technique. How about previously-viewed movies? All movies become previously viewed the day after they open in the theater. Previously-viewed videos are something else; they are older movies on video cassette that have been rented for viewing 643 times and may or may not continue to be viewable. They have seen the guts of many, many VCR's.

Even the real estate folks have gotten into the act by promoting previously occupied homes. I think it is safe to assume that unless the Perma Shield stickers are still on the windows, the house has been previously occupied. Especially when the house in question is being advertised as a "Handyman's Dream."

For all I know I may not even be considered a columnist anymore.

I guess this is the era for tagging things with names that make them sound better or more technological than they really are.

For example, no one goes to the dump anymore. They go to the solid waste transfer station or to a landfill facility. These places employ recycling technicians to make sure we don't dispose of our plastic milk containers with our potato peelings.

Dumps may be a thing of the past, but I still have vivid memories of going there with my Dad. After we dumped our garbage we would look through other people's garbage for returnable bottles.

When we got home I would load the bottles into my wagon and take them to Pete's Variety Store for the deposit return.

Now you take your returnable bottles and cans to a redemption center. Redemption centers used to be where you went to exchange your S & H Green Stamps for a toaster.

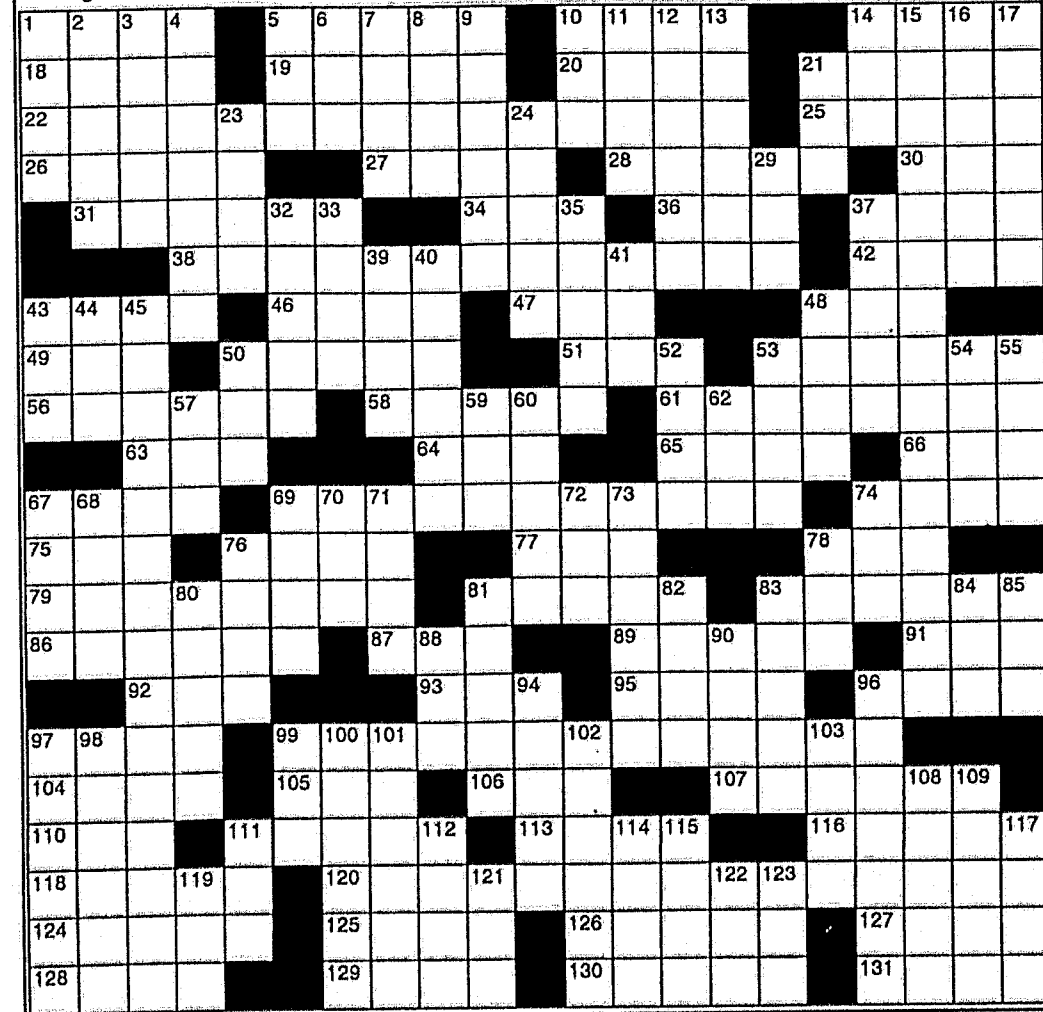

But that was a long time ago when janitors were really janitors and not custodial engineers and you put your trash into a garbage can instead of a refuse disposal container.

Now salespeople are known as marketing specialists and employment agencies are career analysts. Libraries have become media and resource centers and we can telemarket our products on our telecommunication systems.

Life was much simpler when you went to the dump and kicked the tires on a used car (I never really understood that idea). It was nice when you could just take your returnable containers to the corner store and there were still S & H Green Stamps that you could take to a redemption center. But that was a long time ago and I guess I really should keep up with the time.

For all I know I may not even be considered a columnist anymore. I'm probably a creative verbiage engineer and the person who has the misfortune to edit this column probably has the position of excess verbiage control. And that is the way I see it, or keeping up with the times as well as a creative verbiage engineer I am also a visual observation technician.

Gilead

by Lin Chapman

The weather was just wonderful this past weekend, especially after the week before with all the below-zero weather and strong wind. The wind did blow in a trio of visitors to our backyard. We noticed three birds that were looking for food at the feeder and every time a big gust of wind came up they flew up and came back down together. After a couple of times, they headed for the trees. We got out the bird book to be sure that we had properly identified them. They were snow buntings. It has been several years since we had seen any at the feeder.

Brad McLain, son of Steve and Lise McLain, celebrated a birthday this past weekend on March 11. Brad was at his dad's house to help with some work on one of his dad's cars.

Richard Fraser and his mother, Doris Fraser of Bethel, stopped by last Friday for a short visit and to drop off an item for the Gilead Historical Society.

Town Office

The selectmen met on March 7 and worked on the town budget. Ken Cole was present to present his budget for the Fire Department. Ken did well this year and had a small balance left over in his account. The meeting on March 14 should finalize the budget and the town reports should be finished up and printed. The annual Town Meeting will be held on March 31 at 7 p.m. at the Town Hall.

Planning Board

At the upcoming annual Town Meeting, the public is being asked if the Planning Board (PB) should continue development of a Road Design and Construction Ordinance, a Site Plan Review Ordinance and a revision of the existing Building Regulations Ordinance. These three ordinances have been presented to the town in public hearings and comments incorporated. If continued development is desired, the PB will conduct additional public hearings prior to taking the ordinances to the town for approval. Additional information can be found at the Transfer Station, Town Hall or Town Office or by contacting Jack Pucak at 836-2729.

Gilead Historical Society
Richard Fraser donated a couple of newspaper clippings (pictures of the old and new Androscoggin River Bridges) and a letterhead from Geo. E. Leighton Company, that is dated June 20, 1910. Leighton's Mill was a manufacturer of spool lumber, dowels and bobbins and was located behind the present Gerard Dupont residence. The letterhead also lists that they were a dealer in General Merchandise: edgings, slabs, cordwood, lime and cement, and hay and feed. The society has pictures of the mill, but, as always, we are looking for any information, pictures or text, that is out there, and available. The GHS will be glad to make copies of any material, so the originals can be kept if the donor

West Bethel

by Lorrie Hoeh

Monday morning I spotted a male evening grosbeak at the feeder when I returned from my walk. He was all by his lonesome, and the first we've seen this season. The grosbeaks usually travel in flocks, so we're looking forward to seeing more.

Ah, but some people have really unusual things at their feeders. Sandy Wheeler called to tell me that she had a 'possum right on her feeder the other day. She says he or she also comes out of the swamp at night and feeds on the ground. How's that for a different sighting? Opossums are the only marsupials native to North America (they carry their babies in a pouch, just like kangaroos), and they occur from Ontario south into South America, and from New England to Washington state, according to my trusty World Book.

The Innans have had a big tom turkey strutting around their dooryard in the mornings, gobbling his heart out and spreading his tail. Gary says the hens remain unimpressed so far. The Innan feeders also have regular customers of flocks of goldfinches, some titmice, and purple finches. I hear that Ani has a birthday coming up this weekend. More next week.

Walking on the forest road is getting dicey. Sunday morning after an above-freezing night and a warm Saturday, the snow was pretty mushy, and walking on it was like walking on beach sand. I got to thinking that perhaps I'd have to find another route until the snow melts. However, freezing temperatures Sunday night set things up so that I was able to walk on Monday morning. Skiing is out of the question because of all the debris and ruts. I have walked with my daughter, Martha, on the snowmobile trails around and near the Thompson house up the road, and they are in good shape, kept that way by regular sled traffic.

Kirk and Molly Siegel went over to Jackson, N.H., this past weekend to see the NCAA Nordic skiing championship races. It was exciting for them to see some Olympic-level athletes competing and to get in some skiing themselves on the same course. An extra treat for Kirk was meeting some of his former teammates from the Dartmouth ski team, which competed in these same races when he was a student there.

Jane Hosterman returned Friday from an extended stay at Long Boat Key off Sarasota, Fla. Her son, Richie, gives this trip to Jane and daughter Susie as a Christmas gift every year. He arrived first and greeted them when they got there in 50-degree weather. Jane says it was a few days before she was able to get out the short sleeves and capri pants. However, it soon warmed up, and they indulged in sightseeing and other delights.

They trod the paths that DeSoto trod in his search for gold and other riches. Unfortunately, on the way DeSoto also dispatched several of the natives, but that's another story. The Hostermans three also took a 3-1/2 hour boat ride in Sarasota Bay, seeing dolphins and other sea life. After Susie left to get back to work in Massachusetts, Jane and Richie spent time dining with an old fraternity brother and his mom, and also visiting various other old friends.

The ladies of the West Bethel Community Church had their monthly meeting on Sunday, at which they made plans for their turn at preparing one of a series of Lenten luncheons that are taking place this year at the Locke Mills Church.

Finally, on a very happy note, there was a surprise birthday party on Saturday for Reggie Westleigh's 70th birthday. In addition to local friends and family, guests included Reggie's daughter, Debbie and husband Jack Betz from New York; daughter Theresa from Woolwich, with her daughter Ashley; other grandchildren from here and there; and Don and Connie Vautour, formerly of the Flat Road, now living in Waterboro. A delicious buffet meal was enjoyed by all. Happy Birthday, Reg, and many happy returns of the day!

I don't especially like the earlier return of daylight savings time. Frankly, I can't for the life of me see what is saved. But that's my personal idiosyncrasy. Please get in touch with your news. dhoeh@megalink.net; 836-3011.

Andover

by Melinda Averill

Hi folks, don't forget to attend Town Meeting this Saturday at 9 a.m. at the Town Hall. Sympathy is extended to the family of Barb Bailey, whose mother passed away on Feb. 25 in Ohio. Barb and her husband, Donald, flew to Ohio on the 23rd to be with her.

Andrea Bretz Savitz, president of Andover Service Circle (ASC), has updated me about the Circle's first fundraiser of the year on March 17, the Saturday of the Andover Town Meeting. From 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., for $5 a person, on the first floor of the Andover Town Hall, attendees will be able to feast on a buffet of homemade soups, chilies, chowders, stews, corn bread, muffins, biscuits and desserts. As always, all monies collected by ASC will be put to good use for the benefit of Andover residents through charitable giving.

There is no school today and tomorrow, for teachers' workshops and conferences.

Happy Birthday to Jennalee Putnam tomorrow, to Elek Pew on the 18th, and Ricky Kneeland on the 18th.

Have a nice weekend.

The winds last week caused quite a few power outages in the area, although we were fortunate that ours stayed on. On Tuesday, we were heading for a CAP meeting in Rumford when I spied the tops of two tall fir trees leaning against another tree and just above the power line across from Dan Grover's driveway. We went back to Big Sister Verna's house to phone in the problem and have CMP remove the trees before they disrupted our electric power. The man I talked to said they had so many power outages that he didn't want to hear about a problem that wasn't a problem yet! I appealed to his better judgment and asked if he would at least cut a work order to be worked after they had restored power to all their outages. Surprisingly, the next day we noticed that the offending fir treetops had been taken care of.

Just down the road from the fir tree problem a very large and tall pine tree was uprooted, and its top came crashing down about halfway across our road (Kings Highway). Luckily, the power lines were just out of reach of the pine when it came down.

I think it was the same day, I took my snowmobile and homemade trail groomer down across Pleasant River and groomed the trail up the road on the other side to the "Ikee Field" at the end of that road. There is a cable across that road where the logging operation had taken place last winter, but the snow was deep enough that I could drive the snowmobile over it. Anyway, when I got home, I pulled up alongside my storage barn to unhitch the groomer; and just as I was stopping I heard a cracking sound, "Crack! Crack! Crack!" I thought my snowmobile engine was backfiring, or coming apart, when "ka-thump!" The top of a large, tall pine tree landed in the trail about 25 feet in front of me. At least, the snowmobile was still running OK!

On Thursday, as I was finishing up logging for the winter, my chainsaw quit running right and started losing power. After lunch, I took the saw to Bob Lowell's saw shop, where I found him visiting with my nephew, Ken Grover. "Here comes one of my best customers!" was Bob's greeting. "What'd you do this time?" So I gave him my saw to look at. While he was doing that, I started telling him and Ken about a book I bought with some of the Christmas gift certificate on Amazon.com I received from my kids. Bob looked up, "Next time you better have them give you a gift certificate from Lowell's saw shop!" He may have a point.

Newry

by Sylvia Harrington

Last Monday, my friend Jean Gardner drove over from Farmington for a visit. We had lunch and a very nice visit together. When she left, the wind was blowing and a few whiteouts were observed, but she made it back without any trouble. Jean was here for a few days and flew back to Florida on Friday. I had called her husband, Bon, a couple of days after our visit to tell him just how cold it was here. The wind blew so hard that it went right through the hat I was wearing and I put a second hat on under the first. That was also a first for me. Oh! Yes, Bon told me it was in the high 70s where he was.

The fox is still sunning across the street. I walked down in hopes of getting a closer view, but to no avail. On Saturday evening, perhaps in protest for the clocks being set ahead so soon, a skunk let go outside. I thought this was a bit early. Thankfully it hasn't made its presence known since.

With the warmer temperatures of the last few days I have been thinking of the upcoming maple tree tapping days and maple syrup Sunday which usually takes place the last weekend in March. I'll have to give Leon a call to see what is happening along those lines.

Alder River Grange had a short meeting on March 9 at Stan Howe's home. If any member wishes, they can go to Rumford Grange on April 7 to help Ronald Easter celebrate 70 years of Grange membership.

Richard and Pat Kimball were in Freeport on March 11 for a make and break engine gathering.

Peter Bean's family had a birthday celebration for him on March 4. Pam and Steve Wojtylak of Westbrook, John and Penny Kittredge, his children, Monica and Chad, and Mary Bean were there.

Clayton Bartlett will celebrate a birthday on March 15. Ken and Laurie Crockett visited Ruth and Charlie Bishop in Bucksport on March 10 and 11.

The weather on this past weekend was real nice, warm and sunny. The snow has melted a lot.

If you have news give me a ring at 824-3550. God Bless the Troops.

Hanover

by Clem Worcester

The Planning Board meeting on March 7 began at 5 p.m. as a site walk on South Shore Road at a proposed three-lot subdivision. The Planning Board, Code Enforcement Officer, the applicant and his agent and a group of interested onlookers tolerated the near zero degree temperatures while locating the physical features of the site. The board also visited a land use violation in the same vicinity before moving the meeting to the Town Office where it was somewhat warmer.

The Planning Board examined the subdivision application as presented and found it to be incomplete. The developer will present a complete application at a special Planning Board meeting on March 21, at the Town Office at 6 p.m.

In the matter concerning the land use violation, the property owner presented an erosion control plan as requested. He was directed to conduct soil stabilization activities to be completed before March 16 and to reappear before the Planning Board on March 21.

The extremely bitter cold and windy weather of the previous week finally gave way to more mild conditions last weekend. Snowbanks shrank some and places prone to mud became mud holes.

Without a doubt, spring is coming. We recently saw a dead skunk in the middle of the road. Also, we saw a fox crossing the road and we have heard that a moose is traveling around the Hanover area. There have been reports of robins along the Howard Pond Road.

The Hanover Select Board will meet on March 20 at 5 p.m. at the Hanover Town Office.

At the Whitman Memorial Library on Thursday, March 15 (to day) at 1:30 p.m. will be the program One Book, One Community discussion of "Yeh Yeh's House." Bob and Cil Rice, who have traveled to China, will lead the discussion and will share their insight.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Jean Mills Hutchins, to the family of Roenell Cummings, Sr., and to the family of Margaret Berryment.

Services at the Baptist Church are Sunday School at 9:15 a.m., morning worship at 10:30 a.m., youth group at 4 p.m., choir practice at 5 p.m. and evening service at 6 p.m. Wednesday evening at 6:30 is prayer meeting.

The Woodstock Extension will meet on Wednesday, March 21 at 1 p.m. at the Town Annex for an afternoon meeting with tasting party. Several meetings have been missed because of the weather. There are a variety of things on the program.

Don't forget Town Meeting is coming up on March 26 at the Woodstock Elementary School. Plan to attend.

I won't be sending much news in for a couple of weeks probably. So if you have any news you want in please send it to the paper.

Historical Society

The Historical Society Museum should draw more visitors than ever next summer. There is so much for them to see from Decorative Arts to old books. Take pride in what they have to offer and invite people to come. It has superb exhibits and the atmosphere is elegant and welcoming.

You can join the society and make a difference. Curator Larry Billings and all the members are very dedicated and do their best.

The curator has donated two more rare vases to the museum.

West Paris

We are back to normal winter weather again after all the cold, bitter weather. My thermometer got up into the 40s as the wind died down. Us older ladies did not walk when the temperature fell below zero. The weatherman promises more bearable weather for this next week.

On Sunday, March 18, the Rev. Glen Turner will be the guest minister at the West Paris Universalist Church. Jim Burke is organist. Coffee hour follows the service.

On March 15 at 1:30 p.m. at the Bryant Pond Library there will be a discussion on the community book "Yeh Yeh's House" by Evelina Chao. Bob and Cil Rice will lead the discussion for they have traveled in China. All are welcome.

It has been so cold and snowy that no one has ventured out much this week. Please call if you have news.

Waterford

by Rockie Graham

It is suddenly spring after two weeks of very winter. The warm days and cool nights are a great relief. The birds that have been coming in droves are fewer now that it is warmer. During the last snowstorm and in the extreme cold, the birds flocked to the feeders as if they hadn't eaten in weeks. To judge by their size, they have eaten quite well this winter. Soon it will be officially spring. With the time change, the nights start later and the mornings last longer, or so it seems.

In any case, in the warmer weather Tasha and I can go for more walks. It wasn't the extreme cold so much as the ice. Not being regularly plowed and sanded, our road can be treacherous in winter. As it warms, it becomes muddy and wet, but walkable. I have to get some new mud boots now that my muck boots died.

David and I are now official Lions. We will be sharing Lion happenings with all of you. The Waterford Stoneham Albany Lions Club met on March 8 at the Bear Mountain Inn. President Dennis Meka presented Senior EMT Charlie Fillebrown from Stoneham Rescue a check for $1,000. The group had done the same last year. We all shared a great potluck dinner complete with green dessert in honor of St. Patrick's Day.

In the plans for this spring: the Lions Club will have a yard sale June 2 with a rain date of June 3 at the Bear Mountain Inn from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Early birds and dealers will be charged $10 for the privilege. Tables can be set up for $10 for a 10 x 10 table; 6x8 tables will cost $5. Dealers will be charged $10 for yard space. More on this later.

The annual Waterford Stoneham Lions Club Red Cross Blood Drive will be June 27 at Waterford Memorial School. Participants are reminded to eat well and have a photo ID.

Camp Susan Curtis had a fire last week that took the office building. They will be asking for volunteers to help them rebuild.

Today, Thursday, March 15, the Wilkins House will hold a potluck supper. It starts at 6 p.m. Everyone is invited and asked to bring a dish to share and a friend. Beverages and breads will be provided. Hosts are Donna and Tony Butterall.

Saturday is St. Patrick's Day. Look for the usual specialties — iced green beer and green ice cream. Actually, green ice cream is usually good because it is either mint or pistachio, both of which I like. Of course I do not often eat ice cream but I can taste it.

Monday, the 19th of March, is the next selectmen's meeting at the Waterford Town Office. It starts at 6:30 p.m. All are welcome. Monday, the 20th, is the next Transfer Station Committee meeting. It also starts at 6:30 p.m.

That is all for this week. Have a great week. Enjoy the weather while it lasts.

Albany

by Sheila Dyke

Greetings and hello from Albany Township. Next week, spring begins! We've all had a taste of spring-like weather this week. Of course, the forecast for the end of the week isn't so cheery, but, we're Mainers, and we're used to weather being erratic. Spring will be here soon enough. We've also had the joy and ultimate body confusion of springing forward to save all of those daylight hours this past weekend.

The kids have this Thursday and Friday off due to Teachers' Workshops.

The Albany Improvement Association is still requesting donations through a No-Bake Bake Sale to go toward improving the old town hall building, and they are collecting donations until April 1. The funds raised by this will help with the construction of a handicapped accessibility ramp and other much-needed maintenance for the old building. To make a donation to this fundraiser, you can send it to Sally Sawyer, Albany Improvement Association, P.O. Box 1213, Bethel, ME 04217. Please make checks payable to The Albany Improvement Association. They are planning a summer Town Hall Work Day for the work to be done on the building.

I will try and have an update on Pam and Carleton Rugg's Appalachian journey for next week's column.

Best wishes for a happy and safe week. God Bless and Keep!

"How to Deal With Depression Following Loss and Grief," the last in a series of four workshops on loss and grief, will be presented on Saturday, March 17, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at West Parish Congregational Church, Garland Chapel, Church Street, Bethel.

Wayne DuPlessis, M.Ed., MFT, Bethel counselor and member of the "To Your Health" planning committee, will cover the important issues discussed in the prior three sessions and how they can manifest themselves into anxiety, depression and even Seasonal Affective Disorder. He will discuss measures that can be taken to minimize those effects in daily life.

The previous three workshops were very well received and covered an overview of grief, how children and teens grieve differently, and how to cope with unexpected and traumatic loss. Those who missed any of these workshops will have an opportunity to hear the highlights in DuPlessis's summary.

DuPlessis is a Post Maser's level therapist who had been in private practice for the past 12 years. He has worked in every sector of the educational setting, including as an adjunct faculty member at the University of New England. For ten years he worked as a lead facilitator and facilitator trainer for the Julie Foundation, a private nonprofit organization that helps parents of adolescents learn to deal more effectively with their teens. His specialty is adult-adolescent conflict.

The workshop is sponsored by the "To Your Health" committee which includes Western Mountains Senior College, SAD44 Community Education, Bethel Family Health Center, Androscoggin Home Care and Hospice, and Wayne DuPlessis, M.Ed., MFT, counselor.

The public is invited and admission is free. Advance registration is not necessary but will be appreciated. For more information or to register, call 824-2053 or 824-8610.

Trekker Features Greece
Ellen Crocker and Jackie VanLeuven will discuss their recent trip to Greece on Sunday, March 18, at 3 p.m., at the West Parish Congregational Church, Church Street, Bethel. This program is open to WMSC members, who are encouraged to bring a friend.

From
Oxford County Democrats

Democratic National Committeeman Sam Spencer of Portland will be the featured speaker on Sunday, March 25, at 3 p.m. at the Fare Share Commons on Main Street in Norway. The topics to be included are "News from the Democratic National Committee and The Latest on the 2008 Presidential Race." Andrea Quaid of Congressman Michaud's staff will provide a report, and it is expected that there will be reports from several presidential campaigns. The event is sponsored by the Oxford County Democratic Committee, and will be followed by a short business meeting of the committee.

The County Democratic legislators and the Oxford County Democratic Committee will sponsor an Oxford County Democrats Day at the State House on Thursday, April 26, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The day, open to Democrats and friends, will be hosted by the Democratic legislative delegation including Senator Bruce Bryant, Rep. John Patrick, Rep. Terry Hayes, Rep. Tim Carter and Rep. Larry Sirols and will provide an opportunity for attending legislative sessions, committee hearings, and touring the State House. Registrations are required for planning purposes, as the delegation will be arranging for some briefings and visits with leadership. To register, contact Cathy Newell at cathynewell@megalink.net or 875-2116.

County Democratic Chairperson Cathy Newell and Vice-chairperson Roy Gedat have produced three issues of the e-newsletter since January, and are working on a redesign of the website, www.oxforddems.org. Anyone who would like to receive the e-newsletter may e-mail cathynewell@megalink.net.

Waterford Library

As part of the Oxford Hills Reads, One Book, One Community Program, the Waterford Library will host two discussions of "Yeh Yeh's House" by Evelina Chao, the 2007 selection, on March 28 at 10:30 a.m. and at 7 p.m.

"Yeh Yeh's House" is a memoir about the author's visit to her Chinese relatives in the company of her mother. It is also a vivid description of a mother-daughter relationship. Copies of the book are for sale at the library for $5.

On March 17, the library offers a program of stories and craft activities on Chinese folktales for children in grades K-6. Please pre-register by calling the library at 583-2050 or e-mail the library at wla@waterford.lib.me.us.

Information about other programs in the Oxford Hills Reads series is available in the library, or visit <http://www.oxfordhillsreads.blogspot.com/>.

Maine
Handicapped
Skiing

There's still time to join Maine Handicapped Skiing's 22nd annual Ski-A-Thon, Saturday, March 24, at Sunday River Ski Resort and the Sunday River Inn and Cross Country Ski Center.

In 2007 over 700 skiers and riders will take to the slopes and trails to raise funds for Maine Handicapped Skiing, Maine's largest year-round adaptive recreation program for adults and children with physical disabilities.

MHS is looking for team captains who will get a team of five people together and raise a minimum of $600 in pledges to participate. Each team member will receive a free lift ticket or trail pass courtesy of Sunday River Ski Resort or Sunday River Inn and Cross Country Ski Center, breakfast, lunch, and dinner, a fantastic event T-shirt, a goodie bag, free 10-minute massages, dancing to the Blue Willow Band and much more, including chances to earn great incentive gifts or win terrific individual and team prizes. Not interested in being a team captain? Call MHS and ask to be put on a team!

Maine Handicapped Skiing has made fundraising for the Ski-A-Thon a little bit easier in 2007. Ski-A-Thon participants can quickly contact friends, family members, and co-workers around the world by e-mail and ask them to help support their fundraising efforts for Maine Handicapped Skiing through www.firstgiving.com/mhs. Each team member can set up their own unique fundraising page with a personalized message and photos to help them raise pledges for the Maine Handicapped Skiing.

Maine Handicapped Skiing is celebrating its 25th anniversary in 2007 making this year's Ski-A-Thon very special. For 25 years MHS has provided every lesson free of charge to children and adults with physical disabilities. In the winter MHS provides free instruction in downhill and cross-country skiing, snowboarding and snowshoeing. And, in the summer, MHS provides free lessons in kayaking, canoeing, golf and cycling. The Ski-A-Thon makes all the free lessons possible by raising 65 percent of MHS's income in one day thanks to their committed Ski-A-Thon'ers and business and corporate sponsors.

If you are looking for a great day of skiing or riding, the Ski-A-Thon may just be the ticket for you. Join MHS on Saturday, March 24, at the 22nd annual Ski-A-Thon benefiting Maine Handicapped Skiing.

To learn more about the Ski-A-Thon, please contact MHS today at (800) 639-7770 or at info@skimhs.org and just say "I want to do the Ski-A-Thon!"

From Ellis River Riders

Ellis River Riders Show Committee has been busy as bees preparing for the 2007 show season. Some things to look forward to are:

March Barrel Clinic March 31 and April 1 $200 per horse and rider team for both days at the Community Arena with Betty Dyer. The Community Arena is located in New Vineyard right on Route 27. Please contact Missy at Golfinghorse@tds.net.

Grounds opening at Ellis River Riders May 5 and 6, tentative, providing all the snow is gone. Contact Bill Cole at cnet@megalink.net.

The show program book is in the works; most likely at this point they will be ready around the first of April. Remember each family receives one book free per membership. Additional books will be available for a cost, usually between $3-$5.

The first show of 2007 is scheduled for May 19. We are trying something different for this show All Leadline classes will be free. We need to encourage our youth riders of today, we need more. All the kids are growing so fast and have moved on to other divisions that our Leadline division is lacking riders. This show only, all Leadline classes will be free for members and nonmembers. Should the rider join Ellis River before the next show in June all the points earned will be carried forward. Although the May show is normally for members only, we will only allow Leadline riders to be nonmembers. Everyone else must be a member, and you can pay your membership that day.

June 29, in conjunction with Central Maine Team Penning, Ellis River Riders will be hosting a gymkhana show in Leeds.

This will be pointed toward Ellis River Riders and have some payback classes. Deb Cayer and Lainie Wilkinson are working on the specifics for this show and the class list, as there will be more news to share.

We are planning a Demo Days and Chili Cook-off for July 14 at the show grounds. Looking for demonstrators to donate their time and skill. All proceeds from this event will be donated to an Equine Rescue here in the state of Maine. So far we have Chris Lombard who will be doing a natural horsemanship demo, Melissa Riodon will be doing a trailer loading demonstration and "tips on the trail" from pulling an emergency shoe to bridge crossing, etc. We will also have a "horse soccer" demonstration.

This is something new coming to Maine and it looks to be a hoot of fun. We will also be looking for chili makers; categories will be mild, wild and styled. Prizes will be available.

Please contact Lainie Wilkinson at genuineflashyb@verizon.net if you are interested in Demo Days and being a demonstrator, even if you have contacted her once, please contact her again. Put "Demo Days" in the header.

As the year winds up the e-news will be more frequent.

From Norway Memorial Library

The Norway Memorial Library offers two public story times each week for young children. Preschool Story Time for children aged 2 to 5 and their parents or other caregivers takes place every Wednesday at 10:30 a.m., and includes stories read aloud, rhymes, songs, crafts and other activities.

On Friday at 10:30 a.m., Baby Boosters provides children under 2 years old and their parents or other caregivers with rhymes, finger plays, songs, stories and other activities.

Both are open to Norway residents as well as non-residents, and no pre-registration is required. For more information, please contact the Norway Memorial Library Children's Department at 743-5308. The Norway Memorial Library is at 258 Main Street.

From Sunday River Christian Ministry

The Sunday River Christian Ministry will conduct a special service in the "Upper Room" of the green River House, South Ridge base lodge area at Sunday River Ski Resort on Sunday, March 18, at 10:30 a.m.

Featured musical artist and speaker will be Mark Finks, leader of the State Street Traditional Jazz Band of Portland. Although Mark is a native of Maine, he has played and recorded with the veteran musicians from New Orleans, La., since he was a young man. "New Orleans in many ways is literally the heart and soul of our American musical culture," said Finks. "Most of our nation's music had its beginnings in New Orleans and has deeply affected the entire world."

Any dollars donated at the service will go to Habitat for Humanity, particularly for its efforts in New Orleans.

We welcome all ages to our service, believing that a multi-generational gathering truly reflects diversity in God's Great Family. We're big in heart...and not just for skiers/riders. Come join us and take away smiles, sharing of caring and songs of joy!

From Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

A display case, reminiscent of natural history cabinets assembled during the Victorian age, which contains a unique and intriguing variety of mineral specimens from several antique collections will be on exhibit during 2007 at the Bethel Historical Society's O'Neil Robinson House during regular hours, Tuesday through Friday, 10 a.m. to Noon and 1 to 4 p.m. throughout the year and on weekends 1 to 4 p.m. whenever the museum shop is open.

These specimens have been generously loaned for this exhibit by Larry Stifler and Mary McFadden, as well as Jim and Anne Mann. The case is on loan from Jim Mann.

A display of mineral specimens and related items recently acquired by the society is also being created in the same room. Among the donors to this collection, which contains interesting and unusual specimens mined from several local quarries, are Addison W. Saunders, Jim Mann, and Vandall T. King.

A third display case will contain selected specimens from the Stuart Martin collection, donated to the society in 2001 and on display in its entirety in the Robinson House in 2004-2005.

This exhibit underscores the society's plans for a new museum facility to be constructed once the necessary funds have been raised within a recreated ell and barn at the O'Neil Robinson House that includes dedicated spaces for the display and specially developed storage for mineral specimens, mining equipment and related materials — such as photos, documents and books.

With nearly 1,400 members, the Bethel Historical Society, founded in 1966, is western Maine's largest and most comprehensive full-time historical agency, dedicated to collecting, preserving, and interpreting the regional past for present and future generations. For over forty years, the society's activities have included lectures, exhibits, special events, heritage festivals, workshops, conferences, school and educational programs, and publications. In 1974, the society acquired the former Broad Street residence of Dr. Moses Mason, which now contains a period house museum, exhibit hall and research library. In 1999, the society opened the O'Neil Robinson House (next door at 10 Broad Street) to the public for an expanded exhibit program, museum shop space, and administrative offices. Through the years, the society's achievements have been recognized by a number of state and national organizations.

Further information about the society and its activities may be obtained by calling 824-2908 or (800) 824-2910, or by sending an e-mail to info@bethelhistorical.org. Additional information can also be obtained by checking the society's website at www.bethelhistorical.org. The society's mailing address is P.O. Box 12, Bethel, ME 04217-0012.

A new name - still the same excellent care.

Western Maine Internal Medicine has changed its name to River Valley Internal Medicine. But we have the same goal, to continue to provide the highest level of up-to-date medical care, close to home, for the people of the River Valley and beyond.

Drs. Albert Aniel, Thomas DeLuca and Jacob Andrew Ledesma provide care to adults of all ages at 431 Franklin Street in Rumford – across from Rumford Hospital. Each is certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine.

River Valley Internal Medicine is accepting new patients.

Still Time to Ski for Free! Join Maine Handicapped Skiing's 22nd annual Ski-A-Thon, Saturday, March 24th, 2007!

There's still time to join Maine Handicapped Skiing's 22nd annual Ski-A-Thon, Saturday, March 24 at Sunday River Ski Resort and the Sunday River Inn & Cross Country Ski Center. In 2007 over 700 skiers and riders will take to the slopes and trails to raise funds for Maine Handicapped Skiing, Maine's largest year-round adaptive recreation program for adults and children with physical disabilities.

MHS is looking for team captains who will get a team of five people together and raise a minimum of $600 in pledges to participate. Each team member will receive a free lift ticket or trail pass courtesy of Sunday River Ski Resort or Sunday River Inn & Cross Country Ski Center, breakfast, lunch, and dinner, a fantastic event T-shirt, a goodie bag, free 10-minute massages, dancing to the Blue Willow Band and much more, including chances to earn great incentive gifts or win terrific individual and team prizes. Not interested in being a team captain? Call MHS and ask to be put on a team!

Maine Handicapped Skiing has made fundraising for the Ski-A-Thon a little bit easier in 2007. Ski-A-Thon participants can quickly contact friends, family members, and co-workers around the world by email and ask them to help support their fundraising efforts for Maine Handicapped Skiing through www.firstgiving.com/mhs. Each team member can set up their own unique fundraising page with a personalized message and photos to help them raise pledges for the Maine Handicapped Skiing!

Maine Handicapped Skiing is celebrating its 25th anniversary in 2007 making this year's Ski-A-Thon very special. For 25 years MHS has provided every lesson free of charge to children and adults with physical disabilities. In the winter MHS provides free instruction in downhill and cross country skiing, snowboarding and snowshoeing. And, in the summer, MHS provides free lessons in kayaking, canoeing, golf and cycling. The Ski-A-Thon makes all the free lessons possible by raising 65% of MHS's income in one day thanks to their committed Ski-A-Thon'ers and business and corporate sponsors.

If you are looking for a great day of skiing or riding, the Ski-A-Thon may just be the ticket for you! Join MHS on Saturday, March 24th at the 22nd annual Ski-A-Thon benefiting Maine Handicapped Skiing. To learn more about the Ski-A-Thon, please contact MHS today at 800-639-7770 or at info@skimhs.org and just say "I want to do the Ski-A-Thon!"

It's always wise to call ahead

Listings in The Citizen's weekly Community Calendar are compiled from a wide variety of sources. While we do our utmost to ensure the reliability of the information presented here, we recognize that when dealing with such a large volume of material, some inaccuracies will occasionally creep in. And in other cases, a sponsoring organization's plans may change between the time The Citizen is printed and the event is held. Accordingly, we strongly urge our readers to call ahead to verify the details of any event they plan to attend. Doing so will greatly reduce the chance of disappointment or needless inconvenience.

Rumford Area Home Visitor

How would you like to work for a progressive, nonprofit Agency that offers paid health and life insurance, learning and career growth opportunities and quality supervision? We are in search of an enthusiastic, creative individual to work with families with young children or expectant parents in the Rumford area as a Home Visitor. Help deliver developmentally appropriate activities to young children by partnering with parents to utilize their teaching & parenting skills and their home environment. Monitor children's progress through ongoing assessments and written observations. Advocate for families as needed by collaborating with other social service agencies and programs. This is a year-round full-time position, 32-40 hours per week, based at our Chisholm Center in Rumford. To qualify: Bachelor's degree in Social Work or Early Childhood Education is preferred. A minimum of two years home visiting experience is highly recommended. Knowledge of Rumford area social service network is desired. Completion of Denver II Certification is a requirement of this position after hire. Physical exam, TB screening and background checks are completed upon hire. A valid driver's license and vehicle with liability insurance is also required. To learn more about this exciting opportunity and our Agency's exceptional benefits package please visit www.community-concepts.org.

Interested, qualified applicants must submit cover letter, resume, and Community Concepts' Application for Employment (pick an app up at any of our business sites or print one from our website). Send all materials to:

REAL ESTATE AND YOU
THE REALTOR AS GO BETWEEN

People who try to sell their own homes begin to appreciate the expertise of professional Realtors as soon as their first offer comes in. They want to sell their home, and they have found prospects who want to buy. But what happens next?

When the negotiation process begins, things can get "sticky". First, there are personalities involved, and real estate transactions rarely bring out the best in people. The buyers may seem unreasonable if they make an offer that is considerably less than the sellers are willing to accept. At that point the buyers may become offended by the sellers' attitude. When professional Realtors are involved, the process is much less adversarial. The two parties see very little of each other until the rough edges have been smoothed out. Good Realtors know how to keep personalities out of the transaction and to help both sides reach a mutually agreeable compromise.

For professional advice on all aspects of buying or selling real estate, contact Cindy Hiebert at Mahosuc Realty, 207-824-2771

PETER WARD BENNETT

Peter Ward Bennett passed away on March 6, 2007 of complications from bladder cancer.

A longtime resident of Paradise Park in Punta Gorda, Fla., Pete is survived by his wife of 20 years, Judie; his children, Heather Klein of Leesburg, Va., and Jim Bennett of Bethel; three grandchildren; his sisters, Chris Otten of Brookline, Mass., and Andrea Bennett of Newry; a brother, Doug Bennett of Portland, Ore., and a stepson, Wayne Gammell of Perkinsville, Vt.

Born in Brooklyn, NY, Pete graduated from Roosevelt High School in 1954. He received his bachelor's degree in journalism from Syracuse University in 1958.

Pete served as a specialist 4th class in the U.S. Army from 1958 to 1964, primarily functioning as a documentation photographer in Turkey. His professional career started in banking at the Yonkers Savings Bank in Yonkers, N.Y.

In 1969, he moved with his young family to St. Johnsbury, Vt., where he worked as a technical writer for Fairbanks Scales for over 20 years. He then entered semi-retirement, moving to Paradise Park to manage the park maintenance and put to good use his love of puttering and fixing things. Pete's lifelong hobbies included graphic arts, photography, playing bridge, singing, acting, crosswords, sailing, and camping. Pete was active in the St. Johnsbury Players, Carriagewheel Playhouse and the Kiwanis organization.

He spent his retirement years seeing the wonderful sights of our country and visiting family, traveling all by back roads.

He was predeceased by his parents, a nephew, and a grandson.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Tidewell Hospice and Palliative Care, 1144 Veronica Street Port Charlotte, FL 33952.

BONNIE JEAN ABBOTT

Bonnie Jean Abbott, 64, died March 12, 2007 at the Hospice House with her family by her side, where she had been a patient for two days, following a long illness.

Born on March 15, 1942 to Ernest and Lempi Cyr, she was brought up and graduated from West Paris High School. After staying home with her children when they were younger, she worked as a CAN for many years at Led-geview and later as a Med-Tech in Lewiston.

She was a member of the Oxford Seventh-day Adventist Church and although confined to a wheelchair, she gave of herself in many places, including past Community Service Director, Newsletter, Tape and Personal Ministries, and most recently, Bulletin Coordinator. Her happiness and humor illustrated her great love of the Lord, who she planned to meet when He returns.

Bonnie is survived by a son, Brian and wife Stephanie of South Paris; two daughters, Belinda LeBroke and husband Robert of West Paris and Bethany Abbott; six grandchildren; one great-grandchild; sister, Barbara Dunham and husband Gilbert and brother, Michael Cyr, all of Greenwood; and very special great aunt, Helen Heath and husband Clayton of Norway. She was predeceased by her parents and a baby sister.

The family wishes to extend great appreciation to Dr. Duval and team; Hospice Care Staff; especially Deborah C.; the Hospice House Team and Patty V.

There will be a service of remembrance on March 25 at 11 a.m. at the Oxford Seventh-day Adventist Church on Fore Street, Oxford. Instead of flowers, donations can be made in memory of Bonnie to the Oxford SDA Church. P.O. Box 520, Oxford, ME 04270 Attn: Treasurer.

MARY JEAN HUTCHINS

Mary Jean Hutchins, 83, of Bethel, died Thursday March 8, 2007 at Market Square Health Care, South Paris.

She was born in Weston, Mass., on Jan. 24, 1924, the daughter of Eugene J. and Clara (Twitchell) O'Leary and was educated in parochial schools in Boston, Mass.

She was a member of the O.E.S. for over 60 years having served in many capacities including Worthy Matron. She was a volunteer driver for Community Concepts for many years, a former registered Maine Guide; a Shriner's Lady, Member of the American Legion, Charter Member of the Community Lakes Association, Lifetime Member of the Bethel Historical Society; also she was a member of the Bethel and Bryant Pond Senior Citizens. She was employed by Stowell's Mill and Mann's Mill in Bryant Pond and Ekco Wood Products in Greenwood.

She owned and operated the Farmer's Delle on Route 26 in the early '90s and was the proprietor of "A Family Affair" bed and breakfast at her farm in Bryant Pond.

She served as superintendent of Sunday School at the Bryant Pond Universalist Church and was a Brownie and Girl Scout Leader.

She was an outstanding homemaker who loved to hunt and fish, loved to travel and made many crocheted afghans for her grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She especially enjoyed Christmas.

She is survived by her loving husband, James (Jim) of Bethel; sons, Kevin Mills of Milton, Joseph and Anna Mills of Hyde Park, Mass., and David Hutchins of Augusta; daughters, Eva Mills of Greenwood, Katherine and Micheal Giunta of Boston, Mass., Frances and David Head of Bethel and Florida, Joan and William Roberts of Florida and Bethel; Jean Kinnum of Amsterdam, N.Y.; Karen MacKenzie of Alabama and Susan Hutchins of Bethel; 24 grandchildren; and over 41 great-grandchildren. She was predeceased by her parents; her first husband, Francis W. Mills; four brothers, Arthur, Louis, Jack and Eugene; and four sisters, Grace, Blanche, Claire and Patricia.

Graveside services will be held at the Lakeside Cemetery, Bryant Pond in the spring at a time to be announced. Memorials in her memory are requested to be made to: Responsible Pet Care, 132 Waterford Road, Norway, ME 04268 or to the American Cancer Society, 1 Main Street, Suite 300, Topsham, ME 04086.

I'm Free
Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free
I'm following the path Jesus has laid out for me
I took His hand when I heard him call
I turned my back and left it all
I could not stay another day
To laugh, to love, to work, to play
Tasks I left and one must stay that way
I found that peace at the close of day
If my parting has left a void
Then fill it with remembered joy
A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss
Oh yes, these things I too will miss
Be not burdened with times of sorrow
I wish you the sunshine of tomorrow
My life has been full, I savor much
Good friends, good times, a loved one's touch
Perhaps my time seemed all too brief
Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free
I've left you with undying grief
Lift up your hearts and praise to three Jesus wants a free man, He set me free.
